

That said, Encoder-Decoder models have two special things that happen during training.

